Particular attention will be given to all descriptions of work in the Ladies' Branch, and when requested, they will be called on at their residences for measures.

As we believe, from our experience in business and disposition to please, that we can render satisfaction to all who may give us a trial, a share of public support is confidently expected.

TO FAMILIES. A GREAT reduction in the price of Bread may be made by using Hammond's Bread Powder, which is most strongly recommended to Families; for not only is a considerable saving in time and money effected, in the making of this useful article of Food, but it is rendered by the use of this valuable Powder, perfectly easy of di-gestion, so that invalids and delicate children may partake of it without suffering that inconvenience so oftentimes complained of. To persons suffering from indigestion, dyspepsia, &c., it is incaluable. One trial alone is sufficient to establish its decided superiority over any other means of making Bread. A quantity of Bread may be made by it in one-third the time that is required when made in the usual way. It is lighter, and much more nutritious, and a much larger quantity is obtained from the same weight of Flour than can be obtained by any other mode, and far more wholesome.

Prepared, and sold in packets with directions for use, at 61 cents each, by HAMMOND & WALSH.

FINE FLOWING RINGLETS. NILE care of the Hair in infants and children is, by mothers and nurses, too little regarded. No mistake can be more injurious than the supposition that neglect in this particular, can continue with impunity. The seeds of strength or weakness are laid in childhood; and the majurity of the fine flowing ringlets or bald heads of after years, are traceable to this early period.

Castor Oil Pourmade, celebrated for its genial and invigorating qualities, in promoting and restoring the growth of the hair, expelling dandruff and other impurities of the skin, (so very pernicious to the healthy edition, with upwards of a hun- growth of the hair,) is peculiarly fitted for appli dred engravings showing private diseases of every shape and form, and malformations of the generative system.

For Embellishing the Hair, The time has now arrived that the Pourmade is pre-eminent. A smooth, rich, persons suffering from secret disease, need no more become the glossy ringlets, full, inxuriant and graceful, being the admirable results of its use. book any one may cure himself, without hinderance to business, or the knowledge of the most intimate friend, and with one tenth the usual expense. In addition to the general routine of private diseases, it fully explains the cause of manhood's early decline, with observations moisture, and thus preventing decorative arrange-ments—a fault so much complained of by those who use ordinary detergent mixtures, and immediately removes the scurf. As a restorative of the hair, this pourmade is unrivalled. Sold in pots at 25 and 50 cents each, by HAMMOND & WALSH.
